High

High risk

The domain 'www-paypal.com' combines a phishing word with a real brand name, which is a common tactic used in phishing attacks. The lexical analysis shows a high similarity to the legitimate domain 'paypal.com', but with a significant edit distance and typosquatting type of 'keyword_stuffing'. The threat score of 72 and high verdict are driven by the domain's lexical similarity to a well-known brand, the presence of suspicious DNS records, and the SSL certificate being issued by a known issuer. The domain's age and reputational factors also contribute to the high risk.
